The Certifying Body:

1. The American Council for Accredited Certification is the certifying body for this program.
2. All decisions regarding application materials, examinations and the awarding of certifications are made by the CRMI Certification Board, which functions as part of the American Council for Accredited Certification.
3. The certifying body's responsibility to applicants is to provide a credible certification. Operation of the certification program is closely monitored to ensure that reference materials remain current with the industry guidelines and standards and the eligibility requirements for certification are at appropriate levels. Examination questions are developed by certified CRMIs who are currently active in the field of mold inspections. Pass/fail scores are set by the CRMI Certification Board at the ACAC executive meeting using the modified Angoff method. The Board authorizes an annual statistical review of examination item performance and test reliability and updates the examination to reflect the latest changes in our rapidly evolving field.

4. The CRMI certification is valid for two (2) years, after which time re-certification is required.
 5. Certification Board members are required to abstain from voting on any applicant's completed file that may present a conflict of interest, either personally or professionally.

Re-certification:

ACAC certifications are current for two years from the date of issue. The certificate holder must accumulate forty (40) Re-certification Credits (RCs) prior to the certificate's expiration date. Each RC represents one (1) hour of continuing education in a Council-registered activity. The certificate holder may accumulate the required hours at any time during the two-year certification period. An updated list of activities which qualify for RCs is available on the Council website at www.acac.org.

Due Process Procedures:

1. The CRMI Certification Board is responsible for all facets of the certification program, including the review and evaluation of applications, the development and administration of examinations, the granting and reissuing of certificates and the adjudication of complaints against certificants.
 2. Suspensions: If a CRMI does not accumulate the required re-certification credits, certification shall terminate unless, in the judgment of the Certification Board, extenuating circumstances exist and the deficiency can be readily overcome. Examples of extenuating circumstances include documentation of active military service or documentation of a serious medical condition.
 3. Complaints: If a CRMI fails to abide by the ACAC Code of Conduct or is formally accused of gross negligence in the performance of his or her professional duties, the Certification Board may vote to refuse re-certification.
 4. Appeals: Any holder of a valid Council certification or applicant for such a certification may appeal the decisions of the Certification Board.
 5. Complaints or appeals shall be made in writing via certified mail to the Certification Administrator.
 6. In the case of complaints, the Certification Administrator shall forward the complaint to the accused certificant and allow him or her ample time to respond.
 7. The Certification Administrator, at the direction of the Executive Committee, may forward complaints or appeals to the appropriate Certification Board.
 8. The Certification Board shall rule on all complaints or appeals by unanimous vote.
 9. Complaints or appeals may be continued in writing via certified mail to the National Advisory Board.
 10. The National Advisory Board shall be the final court of appeal and will rule on complaints or appeals by unanimous vote.
 11. In resolving complaints or appeals, ACAC may rule only on its own decisions to grant or deny certification and recertification.
